

Dumplings with Royal Baking Powder

No dessert is more delicious, wholesome and appetizing than a well-made dumpling, filled with the fruit of the season. By the use of the Royal Baking Powder the crust is always rendered light, flaky, tender and digestible. Dumplings made with it, baked or boiled, will be dainty and wholesome, and may be eaten steaming hot with perfect impunity.

RECIPE.—One quart of flour; thoroughly mix with three teaspoons of Royal Baking Powder and a small teaspoon of salt; rub in a piece of butter or lard the size of an egg, and then add one large potato, grated in the flour; after the butter is well mixed, stir in milk and knead to the consistency of soft biscuit dough; break off pieces of dough large enough to close over four quarters of an apple (or other fruit as desired) without rolling, and lay in an earthen dish (or steamer) and steam until the fruit is tender. Bake if preferred.

In all receipts calling for cream of tartar and soda, substitute Royal Baking Powder. Less trouble, never fails, makes more appetizing and wholesome food and is more economical. Royal Baking Powder is specially made for use in the preparation of the finest and most delicate cookery.

Result of the Elections.

Returns From the Different States Nearly All In.

OHIO HAS GONE DEMOCRATIC.

Campbell Elected Governor by Over Ten Thousand Plurality—The Democrats Secure the Legislature by a Majority of Eight on Joint Ballot—Other States Heard From.

GOVERNOR J. E. CAMPBELL.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 7.—The Democrats of Ohio now realize that they won a bigger victory Tuesday than they thought they had. Chairman Neal, of the State Democratic Executive committee, claims the election of the entire Democratic ticket by safe majorities. In the collection of the first returns only the vote on the head of the ticket was considered, and as it was thought that Foraker's defeat was due to the scratching of his name the election of any other Democrat was hardly looked for by even the Democrats themselves. Chairman Neal's private information shows that the rest of the Democratic state ticket has followed the head of the ticket, and he says he is sure that the whole has been elected by pluralities ranging from 5,000 to 8,000. He places Campbell's plurality at 10,000.

"You may say," said he, "that this committee has positive knowledge that nineteen Democrats have been elected to the state senate and seventeen Republicans, while sixty Democrats have been elected to the house and fifty-four Republicans, so that we have a majority in the general assembly of 8 on joint ballot, giving us the United States senator."

Governor Foraker declined to say anything concerning his defeat. He was seen by the United Press reporter immediately after he had sent a telegram of congratulation to Mr. Campbell, and seemed very happy in his defeat, although declining to talk about it. Chairman Conger, of the Republican executive committee, said he was astonished at the result, and had nothing to say in explanation. It was a surprise to him.

Supreme Court Clerk Hester thinks he is saved from the wreck, as he ran ahead of his ticket in Hamilton county. It now seems certain that Campbell's plurality will run over 8,000, and may reach 12,000. Still the surprises of the election have been so many and great that Col. Neal's estimate is now acquiesced in by Republicans without controversy.

Col. Conger conceded Campbell's election at about noon. It was a struggle for him to do so, for at night long there had been anxious figuring on the pitiful returns, and with almost pathetic clinging to the last shred of hope. Republicans sought for hours to ward off the certainty of defeat by buoying each other up with the admonition to wait for the rural counties and the Western Reserve. But the promised rescue never came. Long before daylight the experts had acknowledged defeat, but it was thought right that the public acknowledgment of the disaster should be left to the chairman of the committee to make. Governor Foraker himself had no belief in his election after 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

As soon as the chairman of the Republican state committee had conceded Campbell's election Governor Foraker sent the following telegram to his successor-elect:

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.
Hon. James E. Campbell, Hamilton, O.:
To the full extent that a defeated candidate can do with propriety, allow me to offer my congratulations, and assure you it will give me pleasure to extend recovery courtesy I can show you in connection with your inauguration and the commencement of your administration. J. B. FORAKER.

Mr. Campbell wired the following polite reply from Hamilton:
Hon. J. B. Foraker, Governor of Ohio:
Permit me to thank you most heartily for cordial telegram just received. I accept with high appreciation your tender of courtesies upon the occasion referred to.

JAMES E. CAMPBELL.
Campbell's plurality in Hamilton county is 7,643. Schneider and Dunn are the only successful Republican candidates.

Massachusetts.
BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Returns from every town in the state except Concord, which has about twenty voters, give Brackett, Republican, 126,793; Russell, Democrat, 126,813; Blackmer, Prohibitionist, 12,854. Brackett's plurality, 5,979. In 1887, the last off year, Ames, Republican, had 17,000 plurality. In 1885 he had 28,000 plurality.

The state senate will be composed of 20 Republicans and 11 Democrats, as compared with 23 Republicans and 8 Democrats in 1887. There are 123 Republicans and 75 Democrats returned to the lower house, a Republican loss of eighteen from last year. In some senatorial and representative districts the vote was very close and recounts will be asked.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 7.—Returns from this state are still very incomplete, but there is no doubt whatever that the Republicans have elected Laws to congress in the Second district by from 3,000 to 3,000 majority, and that the Republican candidate for supreme judge and the regents of the university have from 20,000 to 25,000. Douglas county has elected the entire Democratic ticket with the exception of one commissioner.

Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 7.—Out of one hundred counties in this state, seventy-nine have been heard from. Out of fourteen cities, returns have been received from nine. Every city and county show a gain for McKinney over the vote of 1888. Thus far the Democrats have elected 70 members to the house of delegates, and 29 to the senate. The composition of the last legislature was: House, 63 Democrats, 37 Republicans; senate, 26 Democrats, 14 Republicans. The latest estimate of the vote of the state gives McKinney 30,000 majority.

New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 7.—Returns from about twenty districts are still incomplete. The complete figures will probably raise Abbott's majority to over 12,000. Ex-Assemblyman Beckwith telegraphs the state Democratic committee that Gardner, Republican, is re-elected to the senate in Atlantic City by 235 majority. This gives the Republicans control of the senate by 11 to 10. The house is—38 Democrats, 22 Republicans.

The total vote for the Prohibition ticket was not over 10,000, a reduction of about 50 per cent. from that of last year.

New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Returns from the various counties in the state aggregating as follows: Democrats 88,582; Republicans 64,931. Democratic plurality 23,651.

The state legislature will stand about as follows, there being one or two districts still in doubt: Senate—Republicans, 19; Democrats, 13. Assembly—Republicans, 67; Democrats, 61. In the present legislature the Republicans have a majority of 30 in the senate and 10 in the assembly.

Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 7.—Complete returns from ninety-five counties and the remaining four estimated the same as two years ago, shows that Boies, Democrat, has 5,995 plurality. The official returns will undoubtedly increase this majority to about 7,000. The entire state ticket, lieutenant governor, justice of the supreme court, superintendent of public instruction and railway commissioner is elected. Republicans claim the legislature by 8 majority in joint ballot, but Democrats do not concede more than 3.

Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Reports of elections from all the counties do not materially alter the estimated figures already announced. Boyer's plurality for state treasurer, according to the latest computation, is 62,351.

All The States Summed Up.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The New York Sun thus sums up the result of the election: In almost every state and city where votes were cast Tuesday substantial Democratic gains resulted. New York state, which last year gave Harrison a plurality of nearly 15,000 over Cleveland, elects this year a Democratic secretary of state by a majority of about 25,000, and diminishes the Republican majority in the legislature. In New York city the Democratic majority is larger than it has been for several years.

New Jersey has elected Leon Abbott by one of the largest majorities it has given in a long time. The Democrats retain the assembly, having made a slight gain there, but they have lost the senate—the prohibition vote, of which considerable seems to have been expected in some quarters, was insignificant.

In Pennsylvania the election of Boyer, Republican, for secretary of state, was a foregone conclusion.

In Maryland Democratic gains are reported throughout the state. The legislature is Democratic by a good majority, insuring the election of a United States senator to succeed Senator Wilson.

In Virginia McKinney, Democrat, for governor, has been elected by a majority of at least 30,000. The Democrats have elected both branches of the legislature, and will have two-thirds on joint ballot.

The Democrats made important gains all over Ohio. The Prohibition vote was larger than usual, which was from the Republican party. The labor party polled a large vote which was a gain to the Republicans. The state is very close. Campbell, Democrat, for governor, ran ahead of his ticket.

In Iowa, the Republicans lose heavily compared with the vote of 1887. The latest returns indicate that Boies, Democrat, for governor, may be elected, but the result is close.

The Democratic ticket was the only one in the field in Mississippi, and it therefore had a walk-over.

The returns from Nebraska indicate the usual Republican success by a majority of 15,000 to 20,000.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEWS.

He Does Not Think the Election Result Affects His Administration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—An evening paper publishes the following statement, which it is understood is authorized: "The president does not regard the defeat of the Republican party in Virginia, Ohio and Iowa as involving the administration. While he is of course sorry that the result is as it is, he is not surprised. The result in Iowa he attributes to the temperance issue and to the unpopularity of one of the candidates with the farmers. He does not take the responsibility for Mahone's candidacy in Virginia, but holds that whatever assistance and support he gave Mahone was not more than he would have given any nominee of the party. Mahone was in no sense personally his candidate.

He attributes the result in Ohio to the opposition of the voters on general principles to the election of any man to an office for a third term. He regards it a protest against a third term for Foraker and against the idea in general of a third term. He does not feel that the voters were passing a verdict upon the National administration.

Rejoicing in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 7.—The city was illuminated with bonfires last night and fireworks were plentiful, in honor of the Democratic gains and victories. The shouting was chiefly for Campbell, as there was great interest taken in the Ohio election.

Election Judge Arrested.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 7.—E. A. Goodwyn, Jr., a Democratic judge, of election for the Second ward precinct was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by J. M. Birdsong, a Republican judge of election for the same precinct, charging him with stuffing the ballot box. Goodwyn was brought before the mayor, but at the request of F. R. Lassiter, counsel for Goodwyn, a continuance was had.

MAHONE AT HOME.

Further Particulars of the Shooting of Herbert F. Harrison.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 7.—The excitement growing out of the shooting of Harrison has very much subsided. Gen. Mahone spent the day quietly at home with his son and private secretary, examining and tabulating election returns. Many friends called to express regret at his defeat and at the unhappy circumstances attending the close of the day's proceedings. Harrison, the wounded man, is resting comfortably. No anxiety exists as to his condition. Gen. Mahone's neighbors are all Democrats, and though they exchange no civilities with him still they made no outward sign of the joy they feel at his defeat. That quarter of the city was devoid of illuminations and was remarkably tranquil throughout the day.

Romane, who swore out the warrant charging Mahone with shooting Harrison, said: "It was a harmless jubilation of young gentlemen. There were no roughs present nor any drunken men. The order was given that no fireworks were to be thrown into the general's yard or against his house. This order I have every reason to believe was obeyed, but notwithstanding the fact that we were out in the street we were fired on from Gen. Mahone's yard. I saw the three flashes and heard the three reports, and it was not until we had been fired on that I rushed up to the fence and used the language toward the general that I did. I still think Gen. Mahone shot Harrison. The wound was made by a rifle ball, and the general stood in his yard, with a rifle in his hand."

Gen. Mahone still adheres to his statement made before the mayor. In his hearing before the mayor Gen. Mahone stated that his shotgun was not loaded. He tried to load it when the crowd appeared, but the cartridges were too big for the barrel.

R. C. Campbell testified that he was by Gen. Mahone's side from the moment he faced the crowd until he reached the mayor's office, and that the general did not fire a shot.

MASSACRE OF GERMANS.

Fate of Dr. Peters and His Africa Colonization Party.

ZANZIBAR, Nov. 7.—Information has reached Zanzibar of the massacre of Dr. Peters, organizer of the German-Africa Colonization society, and the moving spirit of the Vitu company and the entire expedition. The party was massacred near Korkoro, on the Tani river. One European, supposed to be Capt. Rust, and one Somali escaped.

The party is supposed to have been killed by Somalis or Gallas, though the Masai are also credited with the butchery. It is unlikely the Masai had a hand in the massacre, as their country is further west. Korkoro is 150 miles from the coast, following the course of the Tani river.

The latter forms the eastern boundary of the British East African company. Dr. Peters, in following the course of the Tani, established German stations on the east bank, to the great disgust of the English, who finally headed him off and followed his example.

Though his ostensible object was to relieve main Asia, he lost no opportunity of advancing German interests, and thus gained the enmity of the British East African company and its allies. Korkoro is part of the country beyond British influence, and inhabited by Gallas and Somalis, both warlike tribes.

Dr. Peters knew he was in peril. Berlin, Nov. 7.—The Emin relief committee state that at last reports Dr. Peters was in the district of Matakola on Sept. 12, with Lieut. Tiedemann and only twenty-five Somalis. He was fully conscious of the dangers threatening him. It is not unlikely that the Somalis joined the Masai.

The National Zeitung says: "Dr. Peters fell honorably as a soldier. He was a victim of his own convictions. Should the German colony develop as hoped, he will always be gratefully remembered as the founder."

The Tagblatt reproaches those who allowed the expedition to proceed while lacking necessary means and in spite of warnings.

An Old Explorer's Views.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—When the dispatch from Zanzibar reporting the as-assination by Somalis of Dr. Peters, and almost his entire party was shown to E. J. Glave, who has been connected with several exploring expeditions in Africa, and is now in this country with Herbert Ward, he said there was little reason to doubt the truth of the report, as the Somalis were exceedingly treacherous.

In addition, the Germans had experienced great difficulty in getting along with the natives of Africa, on account of the strict and overbearing way in which they treated those with whom they came in contact. He said the Somalis had put to death several other explorers who had been in their country.

In speaking of the object of Dr. Peters' expedition, Mr. Glave asserted that, although it was undertaken with the avowed intention of bearing relief to Emin, the real intention was to close in on the north and in the rear the British East Africa company in opposition to the understanding of July, 1887, between the English and German governments. Otherwise it would be remarkably strange that Dr. Peters should have selected a route through the wild and unopened country to the north of the British company's territory to relieve Emin, who really needed no assistance at that time, as Stanley's expedition had reached him, when the traveling would have been greatly facilitated if he had chosen to pass through the German possessions on the south, which were traversed by caravan roads. It was probable, he said, that although Dr. Peters' expedition was not recognized as representing the German government, it received indirect support from the German authorities.

Part of the Expedition Safe.

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Dispatches from the Emin Relief committee confirm the report of the massacre of Dr. Peters and his party. The European who escaped was Lieut. Tiedemann, a companion of Dr. Peters, who was wounded. Brocher's column did not join Dr. Peters' party.

ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

A Former Cashier of the Toledo National Bank in Trouble.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 7.—Citizens of Toledo were astounded yesterday to learn of the arrest of E. H. Van Hoesen, formerly cashier of the Toledo National bank, who is charged with embezzling $58,000 from that institution while acting in the above-named capacity. He was arrested Monday, but the matter was kept secret until he was brought before United States Commissioner Hall yesterday.

J. M. McKee, formerly teller in the same bank, was arrested Tuesday night in Chicago charged with complicity in the crime, and was brought back here, he waiving requisition papers. Bail was fixed at $70,000 in each case and the hearing continued until Saturday next. The crookedness of Mr. Van Hoesen and his accomplice was discovered about a year ago by Bank Examiner Sullivan, who notified the stockholders that the matter must be fixed up at once, else he would arrest the embezzlers. The bank officials were amazed, and at first refused to believe the examiner's story, but were convinced of the facts.

Mr. Van Hoesen begged to be shielded from exposure, and after a couple of days of consultation several of the stockholders made good the deficiency. Mr. Van Hoesen was at once dismissed, Mr. H. S. Young becoming his successor. The matter remained in this state ever since, until within the past few days, when it was determined that the embezzling cashier and teller should be prosecuted. Both parties have been prominent in church society circles and their arrest has caused a sensation.

Steamers Race Across the Ocean.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The steamers Teutonic and City of New York arrived yesterday from Liverpool. The two steamers passed Sandy Hook light at precisely the same time, having raced side by side for some distance. They left Liverpool together, but the Teutonic was delayed twenty-five minutes longer at Queenstown than the City of New York, and she therefore won the race by twenty-five minutes. The time of the trip was six days, six hours and fifty minutes.

Flow Works Burned.

DEBQUE, Ia., Nov. 7.—The Norwegian Flow company's works in this city, the largest establishment of the kind in this state, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire caught in the paint shop just as the men were quitting work. The loss is estimated at $10,000 and is fully covered by insurance, mostly in mutual companies outside the city. The firm employed 123 hands. It will be rebuilt.

Once Wealthy but Died a Pauper.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Robert Niekla, a well known prestidigitator, once wealthy, died in this city of consumption Monday night. He was without money, and his body will be taken to the Potter's field unless money is sent here to provide for a burial. He has a brother named Alfred Niekla, who is supposed to be living in Philadelphia.

Nine Hundred Feet to Death.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 7.—Byron Jones, a mine driver born aged 23 years, who had been dependent for some time because of illness and family troubles, jumped into Wadell's shaft during last night, and was killed. He fell 900 feet and the body is terribly mangled. He leaves a widow and child.

Mary Anderson's Victim.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—Vice Consul General Johnson at London in a private letter received here Tuesday states that he recently called on Mary Anderson, who in a long talk said that she had never been in better health and spirits, and Mr. Johnson adds the looks it.

THURSDAY, NOV. 7, 1889.

Democrats All Right.

The latest dispatches from Tuesday's elections confirm yesterday's claims.

The victory is even a grander one than first reported.

The victory in Ohio is sweeping—full State ticket and the Legislature on joint ballot by ten.

Democrats elect Governor in Iowa and now claim the Legislature.

In Virginia, the majority may reach 50,000.

That's why we Democrats are all smiling.

The two Dakotas are the twin States of the Union.

FORAKER's ambition overleaped itself, and he is now "in the soup."

DEMOCRACY's star is in the ascendancy. Long will it shine, and brighter still.

MR. SPRIGG BRENT, Government Storekeeper, of Paris, will wed Miss Josie Harris, of Carlisle, Thursday, December 5th.

THE friends of Hon. Harvey Meyers of Covington are confident he will be elected Speaker of the House of the next Legislature.

TWO YEARS ago Foraker won in Ohio by 23,000 majority. This time he is defeated by 10,000 majority. What a rebuke to Forakerism.

CHAIRMAN ALFORD of the State Executive Committee does not favor an early convention to nominate a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

HOW HAVE the mighty fallen! Iowa that a few short years ago rolled up 30,000 and 40,000 Republican majority joined the Democratic column this week.

THE Democratic State Executive Committee should not be in too big a hurry calling a convention to nominate a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Give the voters a rest.

MASSACHUSETTS tested the Australian ballot system this week, and word comes it was a great success. Every State should adopt it. It will put a quietus on the bumper and political dead beat.

THE State Central and Executive Committees met at Lexington yesterday and decided that the Democratic convention, to nominate a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, should be held in Louisville, May 28.

IT seems to be a Democratic tidal wave. Almost every State and city that has voted since Harrison's inauguration show substantial Democratic gains. Is it a rebuke to the Quay-Clarkson-Wanamaker methods of carrying elections?

TANNERISM, Mahoneism and Forakerism have been consigned to a back seat. And none too soon, for the good of the Republican party. Our friends, the enemy, ought to congratulate themselves that they have gotten rid of these political parasites.

THERE'S no doubt of Foraker's triumphant election next Tuesday. The Kentucky Democratic papers are howling about the importation of colored men into Ohio. This is the threadbare cry that always smooths Democratic defeat.—Last Saturday's Republican.

As a political prophet Brother Davis never was a brilliant success.

JUST keep your ear close to the telephone, and you'll hear something drap in Ohio Tuesday.—Last Saturday's Republican.

IT wasn't necessary to keep one's ear close to the telephone. The downfall of the Republican idols was so heavy that it was heard throughout the land. Foraker drapped hard, but he had to drap.

COMMENTING on Foraker's downfall, the New York Herald says: "The time has come when that class of politicians who make capital by fomenting discord between North and South should be sent into retirement." Amen. The country will be better off with Tanner, Mahone, Foraker and their ilk retired to private life.

THE Louisville Times remarks "the country was engaged in a general rebuking business Tuesday. Foraker was rebuked, Mahone was rebuked, the administration was rebuked, and the g. o. p. was rebuked. Iowa's vote recalls the era of Jackson and that day in 1840 when the people smashed the dogma of protection."

THE defeat of Mahone in Virginia is a deserved rebuke to President Harrison. When the administration tries to turn a State Government over to the control of such a trickster and unscrupulous politician as Mahone is said to be, it is time for prompt and determined action on the part of the people. The Old Dominion Democracy did nobly, and they were ably assisted in the contest by the honest or Republicans of the State.

GIVE THE NEW BEE HIVE A CALL.

ROSENAU BROTHERS,

Proprietors Bee Hive, Second St., Near Market.

"If we purchase one ton of steel rails of England, and pay $20, we have only kept even. If the rails were made by men that would otherwise have been idle, England has gained $20 in wealth by the transaction. If our idle men are set to work and make the rails, we have them and the money, and have gained $20 in wealth. If it is true of the steel rails, it is also true of all the goods that we produce. If true, it settles the tariff question. Will some free-trader tell us why it is not true?"—Maysville Republican.

Commenting on this, the Louisville Times says: "That argument is as old as a protective tariff; it was employed in England when the tyrant, Henry the Eighth, compelled the farmers of England to raise flax, according to the acreage they tilled, to supply cheap raw material to English linen mills, that were protected by a tariff, not only protective, but prohibitory. On the other hand free-traders maintain that cash is not paid for foreign steel rails, but products of American labor are exchanged for them, and we can produce something to exchange for them cheaper than England. When then exchange is made, both England and America have made money."

The Turf, Field and Farm.

W. H. Wilson, of Abdallah Park, has purchased of Oscar Johnson, of Millersburg, the three-year-old stallion, West Wilkes, record 2:31. Price $1,500.

August Belmont's string won 36 races during the past season, was second 30 times, third 26 and unplaced 65 times, winning in money $125,635.33. His largest winner, St. Carlo, with two races, one second and one third has $28,458 33 to his credit.

The Richmond Register says: "J. W. Bales bought last week for Lehman & Bros., of Baltimore, 1,000 head of cattle from various parties in the county; weight 1,500 to 1,700 pounds, at $4 per hundred, to go this month. All the above cattle are for export."

The acreage of wheat in Fulton County next year will be more than 25 per cent. greater than this. In nothing have the farmers in that section shown greater progress than in the cultivation of wheat. The average yield per acre has fully doubled in the last ten years.

Horace Miller has sold his farm, "New Forest," two and a half miles from Paris to J. Monroe Leer, for $61,000. The place contains 610 acres, and the price paid is $100 per acre. This, with the 400 now owned by Mr. Leer, gives him 1,010 acres of the best land to be found anywhere.

Fancy Price for Tobacco.

Thirty-five dollars and fifty cents for a burley hoghead of tobacco. On Oct 30, the Enterprise Tobacco House of Louisville, Ky., sold for W. R. Goff & Son, of Shelbyville, twenty-two hogheads of burley leaf tobacco at an average of $23.15. Thirty-five dollars and fifty cents, the highest price paid for a burley hoghead of tobacco in any house in any market in 1889 was received for one hoghead. The $35.50 hoghead was purchased by Mr. S. E. Edmond, of Louisville, for the Drummond Tobacco Company, of St. Louis, to be used in their famous natural leaf brand. Mr. Goff offered twenty-seven hogheads, but withdrew five of the finest for a future sale. The Enterprise House is represented in this and adjoining counties by H. E. Botts, who formerly lived in Louisville, but now resides in Mason.

"Meet me on the corner tonight," he wrote, "and dew not fail." And she answered him, "There is no such word as 'fail'."

A Quartette of Couples Plight Their Troth at the Marriage Altar.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. B.
Poyntz on Front street was the scene of a happy event yesterday.

At noon, their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Dewess Poyntz, and Mr. Clarence J. Hicks plighted their vows at the marriage altar.
Rev. D. D. Chapin, rector of the Church of the Nativity, officiated, and in the beautiful ceremony of that church spoke the words that made the happy couple husband and wife.

The attendants were Mr. James W.
Duke, of Lexington, and Miss Ida B.
Edmonds, of this city; Mr. Samuel Poyntz, of Lexington, and Miss Mary Beardsley of "Rose Cottage." The parlors were filled with relatives and intimate friends who united in wishing the newly-wedded bon voyage through life.

The groom is a prominent young business man of Orlando, Fla., and the F. F.
V. in the afternoon bore the couple away to their far-off home in Florida's sunny clime.

Says the New York Star: "Railroad earnings for October, so far as reported, display almost uniform gains. Proportionate they are not as heavy as the gains shown in September. It must also be remembered that comparison is made with a period last year when rates were demoralized and traffic far from superabundant.
Yet, on the whole, the present results are very gratifying."

The Chesapeake and Ohio earnings for the month of October show an increase of $146,000 over those for the corresponding month of last year. The figures are:

1889.....	$619,500
1888.....	473,500
Increase.....	$146,000

A NEW PRIMA DONNA.

A Former Citizen of Mason County
Gaining Fame as a Singer.

The New York World, of November 4th, says: "Miss Juch will, in graceful, artistic sisterhood, introduce to her audience on Wednesday night at Harlem an American singer. On that evening Miss Juch will be heard for the first time in New York as Mignon, and Miss Marie Decca will appear for the first time in English opera before an American audience as Felina. The new comer is the daughter of Judge Saunders Johnson, formerly of Ohio, but of recent years a resident of Washington. Her grand-father was the late General Hamer, a distinguished Ohio statesman and an officer in the Mexican war. She is a slender blonde; pretty, frank, cordial and unaffected; is highly educated and accomplished, and has none of the airs and graces and affectations which are supposed to attach to the conventional prima donna. To a World reporter who interviewed her at the St. James Miss Decca said that she went to Paris in 1882, where she studied under Mme. Marchesi for three years, and one year more under Mastro Gulio Alary, with whom she passed her entire repertoire."

In explaining how she came by the name of Decca, Miss Johnson said: "When I entered the music room of my Philadelphia singing master one morning, he said: 'I have written a song for you,' handing me the manuscript. 'Will you try it over?' 'Why,' I exclaimed, 'the first five notes spell a name--D E C C A.' My teacher laughed and said: 'Remember it, and use it when you want a non-de-theatre.' The time came when I wanted it, and that is why you see the name of Miss Marie Decca on the bills instead of Miss Mary Saunders Johnson."

The World adds: "Miss Decca sang with flattering success in Covent Garden in Italian, appearing in 'Lucia,' 'Somnambula,' 'Rigoletto,' 'Dinorah,' 'Felina' and Queen of the Night in 'Magic Flute.' She afterward sang all her Covent Garden repertoire, with the exception of 'Magic Flute' with the Carl Rosa Opera Company. Then she made an operatic tour of the English provinces with Her Majesty's Opera Company under Mr. Mapieson, as well as two concert tours. "Miss Decca is accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, a clever and charming woman, the author of the 'Life of Washington' and other works. Between authoress and singer there exists great affection and a charming camaraderie."

Miss Johnson resided years ago at Germantown where she is remembered as a bright and lovely girl. She is a first cousin of Mrs. L. H. Long, of this county, and also a distant relative of Mr. Long. Her fondness for music was noticed when she was but a child. Mr. Long says she used to open her mouth and tell her parents "there is a fortune there." Her words have proven prophetic.

Cronin Trial Resumes.

Testimony of a Number of Witnesses.

THAT BLOODY TRUNK AGAIN.

It is Identified by the Man Who Found It. Kunze Connected With the Conspiracy for the First Time in Court—Testimony of the Witnesses.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The hearing of the Cronin trial was resumed Wednesday morning with every one in better humor after a day's rest. The crowd was larger than on any day of the trial so far.

R. T. Stanton, a printer of Lake View testified to having printed a lot of cards for O'Sullivan the latter part of April. The cards were delivered to O'Sullivan by a boy in witness' employ May 2. Witness identified the card handed to Dr. Cronin by the assassin's messenger as being exactly like those he printed.

On cross-examination the defense tried to show that it was possible for other persons beside O'Sullivan to have gotten hold of some of these cards.

Ex-Capt. Villiers was then recalled to resume the tracing of the trunk, and with the aid of a map showed the territory between O'Sullivan's house, the Carlson cottage, catch basin and the ditch where the trunk was found. Mr. Forrest cross-examined him with the idea of getting an admission that the men in the wagon might have driven down to the lake shore on Fifty-ninth street had they been so inclined, and thus have obliterated the roundabout course they had taken. The captain, however, held that the sand in the road was too deep to admit of the trip being taken in that way. The cross-examination on trivial points was continued at length with the aid of the map, the details brought out being technical and uninteresting.

The next three witnesses, Herman Thool, Herman Pansli and Carl Knop, testified to finding the bloody trunk on the morning of May 3 (Sunday) while out on a hunting trip. The trunk was brought into the court room and identified by the three men.

Officer Job Phillips, of Lake View, testified to having been detailed by Capt. Villiers, on May 5, to go with Officers Wing and Malia to a point on the Evanston road in a patrol wagon and bring the bloody trunk to the Lake View police station. The officers found in the trunk some cotton batting saturated with blood and water and some human hair. The witness identified the trunk in the court room as the same one that he had found on the morning in question. The witness also assisted in taking Cronin's body out of the catch basin, and arrested O'Sullivan, one of the defendants.

Capt. Wing was recalled and gave a description of the trunk's contents when he first saw it. One end of the key to the trunk was covered with yellow paint similar to that daubed on the floor of the Carlson cottage. The witness visited the Carlson cottage a day or two after the body was found, and corroborated the testimony of the witness as to the condition of the room, the broken chair, etc. The witness took up some of the blood-stained flooring in the Carlson cottage and removed it to the Lake View police station, from where it was subsequently taken to the Chicago avenue station. Capt. Schueler, the witness, testified also that he removed pieces of the blood-stained flooring.

Officer Jacob Spengler, of Lake View, testified to having found some cotton batting in the catch basin the day after the body was taken out and Officer George Malia corroborated the evidence given by Officer Phillips.

Officer George Hatt, of the Chicago avenue station, was detailed to work on the case and on May 23, in company with Officer Soroh, made a thorough investigation of the Carlson cottage and its contents. He testified at length as to the condition of the furniture, the yellow paint on the floor and foot prints in it, and the finding by Officer Soroh of the key to the trunk in which Cronin's body was hauled to the catch basin.

The next and last witness was William L. James, a youth of 16 years, and he was the first to connect Kunze, the young German, with the conspiracy. The boy is at present learning the art of court stenography in his father's law office. About the time the conspiracy to remove Dr. Cronin was being hatched the senior James's office was located on the sixth floor of the Chicago opera house building, directly across the street from 117 South Clark street, where the furniture bought at Revell's was placed. The boy testified that one day in the latter part of February or the beginning of March he saw a man at the window of the Clark street flat. It was late in the day, and he took particular notice of the man because he had on only an undershirt and drawers and was sitting close up to the window washing his feet. On being asked to point out the man in the court room the boy, without hesitation, said Kunze was the same man. The boy saw many others in the rooms when looking out of the windows of his father's office, but Kunze was the only one he could possibly identify. A searching cross-examination failed to shake the boy's testimony in the least, and court adjourned.

Three Persons Shot in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Tuesday evening a colored man named Osborne Vasey, and another, name unknown, were quarreling, when Vasey shot the unknown man, who died in a few minutes. Vasey, though wounded, endeavored to escape, but was pursued by Officer O'Brien. Vasey fired on the officer, shooting him through the breast, killing him instantly. Vasey was wounded in two places and will probably die.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

Washington Dispatches

Annual Report of the Chief Signal Office.

A CRIPPLED DEPARTMENT.

Lack of Facilities in Carrying Out the Objects of the Bureau—Recommendations to Congress—In Need of More Liberal Appropriations—Other National News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Gen. A. W. Greely, chief signal officer of the army, has made his annual report to the secretary of war. He complains of lack of facilities for using or caring for the field telegraph trains or other signal equipments under his charge, for the practical training and drilling of the officers and enlisted men of the corps, and of the need of liberal appropriations.

He calls attention to the necessity of improvement and change in current methods of signal instruction and practice. The records show that less than one officer out of nine of the line of the army has received instruction in signaling during the year. These evils are especially pronounced in view of the introduction of the telephone and other instruments of modern invention which are applicable to signaling purposes. The issue of weather forecasts and storm warnings has been interrupted through the year. Applications for special predictions have been so numerous that the forecast official cannot furnish them regularly.

The chief signal officer recommends that the force of enlisted men in the service be reduced from 470 to 200. The cold wave, predictions, he says, have proved successful in many ways, and this branch of the service has improved greatly since its inauguration. The weather crop bulletin has met with great favor. Gen. Greely calls attention to the fact that two grand prizes were awarded the service for the display at the Paris exposition.

Naval Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The coast survey steamer Ranger has been ordered to proceed from Mare Island to San Bartholomew bay, Lower California, and resume the survey on that coast at the point where it was discontinued last season. She will gradually proceed southward.

The navy department has directed that the Galena be docked at New York to ascertain what damage she sustained from grounding recently, while entering New York harbor.

A naval court martial will convene at the Boston navy yard on Nov. 8 for the trial of enlisted persons. The court will consist of Capt. Matthews, Lieutenant-Commander Morgan, Lieut. Symonds, Lieut. Winter, Ensign Hulise, with Lieut. Patch as judge advocate.

The board of naval officers appointed by Secretary Tracy some time ago, to examine the plans upon which the cruiser Texas is being constructed at Norfolk navy yard, has completed its work. It is believed at the department that their report will confirm the calculations made by the bureau of construction and repair, which shows that the Texas, if constructed according to the present design, will sink so far in the water as to be practically worthless.

Consultation With Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Twenty of the postmasters from the principal post-offices in the country have been summoned to Washington by Postmaster General Wanamaker for the purpose of consultation. The conference began yesterday at the postoffice department, Postmaster General Wanamaker himself presiding. The object of the conference, like those recently held here by the postoffice inspectors and railway mail superintendents, is to interchange ideas for the betterment of the postal service throughout the country, and to enable the postmaster general by personal contact with the postmasters to learn of the needs of the service, and to supply deficiencies where possible. The conference will continue several days. Among the prominent postmasters here are those from New York, Boston, Chicago, New Orleans, Washington, Nashville, Buffalo, Charleston and Philadelphia.

Bayard's Wedding Day.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Ex-President Cleveland and Mrs. Cleveland, in company with ex-Secretary Bayard, arrived here last night on the 10 o'clock train from New York. Mr. Bayard will be married to Miss Clymer this afternoon, and the ex-president and his wife are here to attend the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland on their arrival were driven to the residence of ex-Marshal Wilson, whose guests they will be while here. Mr. Bayard registered at Wornley's.

Too Much Supreme Court Work.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Mr. Edward Otis Hinkley, of Baltimore, secretary of the American Bar association, and Mr. J. Hubley Ashton, of Washington, delivered to President Harrison yesterday a letter prepared by a distinguished committee in behalf of the association, setting forth the great accumulation of the business of the United States supreme court, and making a strong statement of the urgent necessity for the enactment of some measure of relief.

Steamer Charleston Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The United States steamer Charleston was accepted for the government yesterday by Secretary Tracy. A telegram was received from the contractors, the Union Iron works, of San Francisco, stating that they would waive a further trial. The question of what penalty the contractors shall pay has not been determined upon.

An Increase in Wages Granted.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 7.—Notices have been posted in all the furnaces in the Mahoning valley, granting all employees an increase in wages of 10 per cent. The new arrangement goes into effect Nov. 17. The increase was unsolicited.
